子守歌の日の記念

二十五年七月十日

大黒 孝子

recognize that many years had passed. After the graduation ceremony and the party, the students went home to spend a quiet evening alone with their families. The sky was beautifully clear, and the cool evening breeze was pleasant.

The mother of the child was busy with housework, and the father was out hunting for a new job. The child was left to play unattended.

The narrator describes the child's play in the garden, where they were playing with the toys and games. The child was happy and content, and the narrator felt a sense of joy and fulfillment.

The narrator also reflects on the child's future and the challenges they might face. They express a concern for the child's well-being and hope that they will have a happy and fulfilling life.

The narrator's descriptions are simple and straightforward, focusing on the child's actions and the narrator's thoughts. The overall tone of the narrative is warm and affectionate, capturing the essence of a simple, Joyful moment.