

12068 Understanding English Education a、b Understanding English Education		1 年次～ a：後、b：前 2 単位
担当者	長澤 邦紘	履修可能学科	E 必
		関 連 資 格
サブタイトル	Classroom methods and techniques for teaching English in Japanese primary and middle schools
授業内容 ・ ねらい	This course aims at providing basic ideas and classroom techniques for the teaching of English in Japanese primary school, junior high school and high school. It covers the areas of teaching pronunciation, vocabulary, sentence structures, language functions, and communication strategies. After the teacher's lecture on the day's topic, students discuss related questions in small groups and report orally the results of their group discussion to the class. The teacher makes evaluative comments on them. Students write summaries, comments and/or questions regarding the lecture and the oral reports, about which feedback is given the following week. The students will be assessed from the viewpoints of whether they have acquired 1) basic knowledge of methods and techniques of English teaching and 2) the ability to make summaries of and comments on the lectures and presentations orally and in writing. The course is basically taught in English.
授業計画	 1. Objectives of English language teaching in Japanese primary and secondary schools  2. Teaching the alphabet  3. Pronunciation  4. Phonetic symbols; mini-test (1)  5. Phonics  6. Vocabulary  7. Sentence structures  8. Language functions; mini-test (2)   9. Discourse rules  10. Communication strategies  11. Teaching language and culture  12. Motivation; mini-test (3)  13. Teaching English in primary school  14. Teaching English in high school  15. Summary: Who is a good EFL teacher?  Mini-test (4)
教科書 参考書	No textbooks. Suggested reading: Jeremy Harmer, The Practice of English Language Teaching (Longman).
評価方法	Oral report 20% (a three-minute report of the result of the group discussion; lesson summaries 40% (summaries/comments/questions regarding the lectures/presentations); Mini-tests 40% (to check the understanding of the methods and techniques discussed in the lectures)
事前準備学習 履修条件等	(1) Students make notes for reporting the results of group discussion of the previous week. (2) Students study handouts given out the previous week.		